MESSAGE FROM THE CITY COUNCIL

Hello Smithfield residents,

After a very hot and dry summer we are receiving badly needed rain and snow in the mountains. The change of the season is here and I've seen many of residents beginning to prepare for the cooler months ahead. It is now time to close and drain sprinkler systems and any other water system which might freeze. The fall duties bring a myriad of to do's such as raking and hauling leaves so your kids (or the neighbor's kids) can jump in the piles and spread them all over again. My own little kids have busied themselves with discussions on what they want to be for Halloween and we recently finished the last of the food bottling for the season.

Your city has recently installed a new flagpole on the cemetery grounds so that our nation's flag may properly fly there and honor our veterans. Many thanks to a former resident and veteran for donating the first flag to be flown on the new flagpole. If you get chance please drive through our cemetery and view the new pole.

Other recently completed projects have been two new sidewalks: the first on 100 North from Forrester Acres to 800 West (thanks to a Utah Department of Transportation grant for making this project possible) and the second on Main Street from approximately 450 South to 600 South. These have both been projects that were needed to address safety concerns as well as helping encourage everyone to be able to be more active.

A special thanks needs to be given to Ruth Swaner, Sally Karren, Carolyn Monaco, Elizabeth Hassell and Thomas Kapelos (as well as many others) for their dedicated service in making the senior center weekly luncheons such a huge success! They donate countless hours each week in making sure there is a nice meal and program. This is not an easy task and they do it each week on a volunteer basis.

A thank you also needs to be given to all past and current youth council supervisors. Our youth council is what every other city inspires to be like and it would not be possible without all of the volunteer leaders who have contributed many years of volunteer service. Thank you!

With Thanksgiving fast approaching I would like to express my appreciation to the residents of this wonderful city for what they do for each other. So many of you do things that others are not aware of which helps make this city a better place to live. This past week a long-time close family friend passed away and the comment was made that even though Smithfield has grown the neighbors still pull together and support each other in their lives. It is the residents that make a city a wonderful place to live and I am grateful we live in a place like we do.

I appreciate being able to visit with many of you about the concerns and ideas you have. Please let the council know of your concerns, as well as ideas for improvement, so we may all play an active role in helping our city improve.

Let's all give thanks this fall season for a wonderful city to live in with so many wonderful people.

Sincerely,

Wade Campbell - Council Member
